

Jared Capouya, MD, MS, HQS

Jared Capouya, MD, MS, HQS is the Chief Quality, Safety and Analytics Officer at Nemours Children's Health in Florida (FL). Dr. Capouya is trained in pediatrics (University of South Florida, 2006) and has received a degree in Healthcare Quality and Safety Management (Thomas Jefferson University, 2019). He was the inaugural Medical Director of Quality at Mary Bridge Children's Hospital in Tacoma, WA (2013) and went on to lead the quality and safety program at Arkansas Children's health system in 2018 as the Vice President of Quality and Safety as well as a leading role in their clinically integrated network, Arkansas Children's Care Network (ACCN) before transitioning to Nemours at the end of 2022. Additionally, he is currently a member of the patient safety team at the Child Health Patient Safety Organization. Dr. Capouya has led several implementation efforts including population health indices, communication and optimal resolution program, harm reduction efforts across a health system, integrated behavioral health in early childhood, high reliability leadership methods and behaviors and currently works as pediatric hospitalist in addition to leading quality and safety efforts at Nemours in FL.