

Eric Moskow, MD

Dr. Eric Moskow, an internist by training, has been at the forefront of value-based care and healthcare technology. Over the past twenty years, Dr. Moskow has founded several successful ventures including Outcome Based Delivery Systems (2006), Data Driven Delivery Systems (2012), Accuity Delivery Systems (2016), Second Wave Delivery Systems (2020), and recently, ThirdWaveRx (2022). Earlier in his career, Dr. Moskow practiced as an Internist. He was the President of Family Medical Associates and served as Executive Vice President of Physician's Choice Management, LLC (PCM). Furthermore, Dr. Moskow founded and led the Coral Gate Medical Group in Broward County, Florida, and served as Executive Vice President at Cybear, a healthcare IT company, from 2000 to 2002. Dr. Moskow, who is board-certified in internal medicine, completed his B.S. degree at Vassar College in 1980 and obtained his M.D. degree from New York Medical College in 1984.