

Byron Scott, MD, MBA

Byron Scott is a Lecturer at Thomas Jefferson University, College of Population Health where he teaches healthcare quality and patient safety. He serves as Vice-Chair of the Board at Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego and Vice-Chair of the Board at Direct Relief. He also serves on the Board of Directors for Providence Health Plan where he chairs the quality committee and the Board of Accuray (NASDAQ: ARAY), which manufactures Radiotherapy systems for Cancer. He is Directorship Certified by the National Association of Corporate Directors.

He previously was Deputy Chief Health Officer at IBM Watson Health and Associate Chief Medical Officer at Truven Health Analytics. Prior to joining Truven Health, Dr. Scott was Executive Vice-President at EmCare, a physician practice management company. He worked for EmCare for over 18 years in various leadership and executive roles, including practicing emergency medicine.

He received his undergraduate degree from the University of California, Los Angeles, medical degree from the University of California, San Diego, and his Master of Business Administration from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst. He is board certified in Emergency Medicine and certified in Healthcare Quality Management. He is an Editorial Board member of the American Journal of Medical Quality and American Health and Drug Benefits Journal.